Senior Poets

The time has come for us to leave
Our school, our Cradock High,
But all our precious memories
Will always linger by.

CHORUS:

To students loyal to their school,
To knowledge gained by all,
We leave the spirit of the class,
And of the students long gone past.

Our friends whom we shall leave behind,
With thoughts so true and kind,
We're leaving you to carry on,
For good old Cradock High.

—MARILYN TURNER

We've spent four years with you,
Our classmates good and true;
Now we must say adieu
And so farewell!

These years have been such fun,
Now we must part each one;
Our studies here are done,
And so farewell!

—E. C. HEWLETT

Through the halls of Cradock High School
There now echo sad refrains,
And the ghost of long lost friendships
Revive themselves again.

Cradock we shall miss you
Though we are apart,
Lessons as Seniors
Stay in our hearts.
Molded and fashioned
By friends good and true,
A beacon of guidance
Reflected by you.

Long years of toil and hardship
That will end for us today,
Traveled by so many
Who have fallen on the way.

We shall be honored
In years now to come
By things attempted
And things we've done.
When in the future
We gaze at our past,
Our memories of Cradock
Bring joys that will last.

—GORDON CREECY

Now that our school days are over and done;
We extend with great pleasure
many thanks for our fun.
To all the dear faculty,
we bid you farewell.
To all our fellow classmates,
this we must tell;
"We'll miss you, dear friends,
more than you know,
But the time has come when we must go."

—ADEL ODOM

Graduation does not mean the end,
Tomorrow the curtain will go up again
Because our councilors have made us realize
"That in ourselves our future lies."
We're leaving now, with eyes filled with tears,
But we'll not forget you in future years:
We look to the future, determined to serve
Our God, our country, and the spacious world.

—EULA BULLARD

I see a tear upon a face,
I see that tear drop to the lace
of a girl's graduation gown.
I see a boy quickly frown
And then a quiver of his lip
Tells me he could but let it slip.

What is the meaning of this tear?
Can it be that it is fear
of what the future may hold,
For each senior meek or bold?
But let us use this tear
As a crystal ball so clear.

We see now what this clear drop means,
To her it symbolizes scenes—
Scenes of fun and toil and play
That filled her life through each long day.
Mem'ries of teachers kind and dear,
Who steered her paths from year to year.

We see the seniors scattered far,
Each pursuing some fixed star.
Boys struggling, the world to save,
Girls who will their lives so brave,
All her friends of former days
Working, going various ways.

And through this tear we see today
In corners near and far away,
The burdens pass from old to young
To reconstruct in deeds unsung;
And vacant places we must fill,
We must, we can, we surely will.

—KATHERINE BANKS

JOHN CARTER
MABLE SUMMER

SENIOR HISTORY

On a bright September day in 1944, an excited group of girls and boys met at Cradock High School. On the same day there was another group, just as excited, meeting at Alexander Park. We were both to begin a long journey with four stop-overs, destined to meet at our fourth stop but travel separate ways until then. The first stop was called Freshmen. We all enjoyed this stop very much. George Dunn was appointed to lead the Cradock group. Assisting him were Pearce Soule, Adeline Marable, Sammie Quinn, Billy Seybold and Misses Elizabeth West and Ruth Lippard as advisers. Although the group from Alexander Park decided not to elect leaders, they were very prominent in many activities. We saw many interesting sights and a gala ball, the Freshman-Sophomore, was enjoyed by the Cradock group.

We all felt we had learned a great deal at Freshman but moved forward to our next stop at Sophomore. Being more experienced travelers now, we felt very sophisticated. Sophomore was to hold many new adventures and good times for us. The Cradock group decided to keep the same leaders, and appointed Miss Betty Ames and Mrs. Margaret Forehand as new advisers. The usual dance, the Freshman-Sophomore, was held in the gymnasium. Being well attended by the Cradock group, it became another pleasant memory of Sophomore. The group from Alexander Park still felt that they needed no leaders, but enjoyed their various activities.

Soon the entire group was off to Junior. During this visit things were happening all the time. Hunter Boothe became Cradock's new leader, assisted by Walter Collins, Adeline Marable, Margie Parker, Bill Griswold and Billy Seybold. Miss Mary Evan Sides was now adviser. At this visit Jimmy Spies became leader of the Alexander Park group. Assisting him were Frances Robinson, Betty Hester, Harold Tompkins and Mary Harper. Then came that high light of the whole trip, the Junior-Senior prom. Each group worked to make its own prom the success it turned out to be.

At last we both reached our final destination—Senior. Here we met and traveled through Senior as one large happy group. By this time we had seen so many new sights and learned so much history that we felt quite well-educated. Walter Collins became our leader. His assistants were Jimmy Spies, Margie Parker, Gertrude Phelps, John Story, Kenneth Brown and a new adviser, Miss Evelyn Byrd. Work began on "The Admiral," which was a record of the whole trip. Jimmy Smith was elected editor with an able and efficient staff. On April fifth we laid aside our dignity and became babies again. Later in April we produced the play, "Almost Summer," which was a big success. We were the honored guests of the boys and girls from Junior on May the thirteenth at a dance given at the Petite Ballroom. It was a wonderful affair.

The events of our "big" trip at Senior ended with the Senior Banquet, the Baccalaureate Sermon and at last the receiving of our diplomas—graduation. Parting seemed a little sad, but when we remember our journey it will be with a smile on our lips and a glow in our hearts of the memories we shared together.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1948, being of average intelligence, reasonably sound mind, stable emotions, and robust health, do hereby make, bequeath, and publish this will for the sole purpose of bestowing upon our successors the worthless, but coveted, possessions graduation has forced us to leave behind.

1. To RICHARD BUTLER—We leave Virginia Lee Golden's brain in hopes that he'll discover who wrote Franklin's autobiography before he finally graduates.
2. To SUE PALMER—We leave Gracie Armistead's "editorship" of the paper and the privilege of losing her temper three times before each edition.
3. To PATTY WILLIAMS (Better known as "I made 20 points—can you top that?")—We will Mr. Stenzel's easy chair so she won't need to stand under the basket between points.
4. To ROBERT SHOCKLY—We gladly give the enormous height and red hair of Billy Griswold so he won't need bifocals when he vocalizes in future minstrels.
5. To NEDRA NAVE—We leave Katherine Bank's peroxide bottle to keep her own shiny locks in topnotch shape and shade.
6. To RICHARD RAMSEY (Cradock's Van Johnson)—We leave the lady-killer techniques of Otho Baker and demand he give the fair sex an even break.
7. To BILLY SUE BOHANNON—We bequeath the cheering ability of Sammie Quinn and will expect her to earn a Varsity letter next year.
8. To VIRGINIA WATSON—We leave Gertie Phelps' basketball ability and claims to a uniform next season.
9. To ROY GRIGGS—We hand down the sportsmanship and laughing blue eyes of Billy Byers and hope "Hollywood" turns out a great athlete like our own "Moonie."
10. To PAT ABERNATHY—We bestow the sweetness and sincerity of Eula Bullard to enhance her already glowing personality.
11. To THE JUNIOR CLASS we pass on the thrill and adventure of "Seniorhood," our lockers in the middle hall (the perfect excuse for being late), and the battered notes we used to get ads with when school got tough. Also, we leave to the Juniors all those unfortunate Seniors who couldn't scrape together 16 credits by June 8.
12. To THE SOPHOMORE CLASS we will our old corridor and offbound passes, indelible pencils and dictionary of faculty signatures. These implements properly applied should make their coming years in Cradock pass more quickly.
13. To THE INCOMING FRESHMAN CLASS we leave our yo-yos and beloved moron gym suits. Also several hand books on such useful subjects as "Successful Class Skipping."
14. To THE FACULTY we express our sincere appreciation for attempting to educate us these four long (in some cases, longer) years, our sympathy for the chaos they endured during the last weeks of school, and finally our appreciation for their being gracious enough to graduate us.
To MISS BYRD and MRS. RICHARDSON—We leave the headache of future annuals.
To MISS PHOEBE WEAVER—We leave a name plate for her desk inscribed "Miss Phoebe Weaver, Truant Officer."
To MRS. PARSONS—We leave the big office clock to be installed in her classes so she may maintain standard time.
To MISS DICKINSON—We leave our overdue library books and sincerely hope she'll be understanding (after all 2c a day mounts up.)
To MRS. WEAVER—We donate our battered English Four's so she may supply her forgetful students with books.
15. To CRADOCK HIGH—We take with us as we depart the memories, laughter, tears, and lessons she has given us and return to our Alma Mater our deepest love.

After careful deliberation we, the Class of 1948, hereby draw this document to a close and appoint Richard Ramsey, the President of the Junior Class, as executor of this last will and testament, authorizing and empowering our said executor to, with proper discrimination, sell, distribute, burn, or bury anything we have left behind unlabeled.
